GOBABEB, The Gobabeb Training and Research Centre is a Southern African Development Community (SADC) Centre of Excellence focusing on promoting understanding of the interactions between arid zone ecology and human activities.

Since 1962, the Centre has been one of Southern Africa's foremost centres of arid lands research. Its new focuses on appropriate technology and training mean that the Centre remains highly relevant to sustainable development in Namibia and Southern Africa as a whole.

From time to time and on demand Rooisand Desert Ranch is supporting international research projects. In the year 2002 we host a team of scientists from the University of Giessen / Germany, who was working at a project of Arachnologie (Spiders).
